

MORNING APPEAL.

Official Paper of Ormsby County

THURSDAY, JANUARY 23

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and whiteness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the adulterated "low" brands, short-weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street New York.

A Warning to Ladies.

Many a dime, to the spy bar-keeper. Often finds its jingling way. Just because a shabby wrapper, awaits a man at close of day. This terrible fact will no doubt, shock many a fair one; but there is a class of ladies who are able to off-stand this calamity. They buy their wrapper goods at Olcovich Bros. the leading merchants in this city. Their line of new fancy dress goods has captured the hearts of the Carson ladies. Do you wonder why? New shoes arrive every week, and Olcovich Bros. are selling shoes at prices within the reach of all.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no equal and few equals. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

K. C. Eldridge the agent for the Singer Sewing Machine has also secured the agency for several leading pianos including the following makes, McEwen, Antisell Newby and Evans, and several others, which he will sell on reasonable installments. For further particulars or inspection apply at his agency to the Ormsby House.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal prices? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedic, Druggist

The fact has been abundantly proven that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the most prompt, most reliable and most successful medicine yet discovered for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, colds and croup. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

For Rent.

Two furnished rooms, Cor. Musser and Plaza streets, immediately opposite the Capitol. Apply on premises. Rent cheap.

Harris the barber in the Ormsby House block now announces that he will cut hair for 25cts.

ALL SORTS.

Snow shovelers are in need. Cap. Lord is quite ill in Reno. Nat Dow is down with la grippe. La grippe has gradually let go its grip.

The snow-plow is now operating near Virginia.

Work was renewed in the box factory yesterday.

The rivers throughout the State are rising rapidly.

Will Mackey is on his feet again and able to attend to work.

The sleigh roads between here and Virginia are in good condition.

The remaining cattle need not suffer for want of grass next year.

The State Printers are working on the State Treasurer's and Comptroller's report.

The regular editor of the APPEAL called on us today, and asked the price of bar silver.

Mr. D. Circe who has been confined to his bed for the last week, is again able to be about.

We are indebted to Mr. Sam C. Wright Jr. for services rendered during the illness of the editor.

The boys have all got the snow-shoe fever and have introduced a barrel-stove in the field.

Geo. Hark has some graded Helstein steers in his market which are considered very choice by epicures.

Only those who have received notice of their election to the roll of members of the O. N. O. club, can purchase tickets.

A cold cutting wind has struck us and the snow on the ground is all that keeps the water pipes from breaking.

All the prisoners seem to have escaped la grippe and nothing but a bad cold has appeared among them since the scare began.

The ice that is being cut on the Truckee River, says the Reno Journal is not of very good quality, the upper part being mostly snow.

Theo. Winters has not shipped his horses East yet on account of the prevailing storm. They were to have been sent some time ago.

A large force of men is employed on the flume clearing away the snow. All the idle men in town have found employment and they seem to take readily to it.

The bad weather and the large route of the APPEAL has necessitated employing another carrier, who makes his rounds on a pair of Candelaria snowshoes.

John Whitcomb, a guard at the Prison made a snow plough and cleared the road from the Prison to Smith's ranch. The road is like glass and nearly hard enough to skate on.

The coyotes that do not freeze to death this winter will have all they can attend to in devouring the cattle that have perished. It is only about once every decade that a coyote becomes of any value.

The Tribune states that many of the wealthiest cattle men in the State will be ruined by the storm.

The above is incorrect as the readers will see by reading an interview with Hon. T. B. Rickey on the subject.

Judge Sabin, who will preside in the case of the Union Mill and Mining Company vs. the Carson Valley ranchers, has gone to Oregon to attend court and is not expected back until March. In the meantime the 80 odd defendants breathe easily.

Don't believe the statements appearing in the papers that there is a scarcity in Carson of flour, eggs, bacon, hams, sugar, etc., as it is all humbug. Chas. H. Kelly has Pioneer and McCreary flour at $1.50 per sack. Eggs 60 cents per dozen fresh oysters 50 and 60 cents per can. Also a full line of staple and fancy groceries with prices the same as before the recent storm. Give him a call and be convinced.

WANTED.—An energetic man who understands clothing to represent us as Sales-Agent in Carson City. Superb new Spring line now ready.

WAMAMAKER & BROWN, PHILADELPHIA. Largest Clothing and Merchant Tailoring House in America.

SHOT AT THE INDIAN.

A Cowboy from the Backwoods gets on the Warpath.

"Say," remarked Oliver Roberts to an APPEAL reporter, "Did you hear of that cowboy who took a few shots at Jake Tobriner's cigar Indian in '73, well if you didn't, I'll tell you how I started a hospital for the poor."

"Well, it was this way," and a crowd immediately gathered around the jovial landier and prepared for a good yarn.

"A young man with long hair, and a buckskin suit came into town on a mustang and I immediately recognized him as an acquaintance of mine whom I had met in '69. Of course I rushed out, returned three dollars that I owed him and invited him to stop with me. He accepted and I took him to my room.

"As we stepped inside the door, he turned to me and said: 'Gill, have you ever spoken of me in this town?'

"I replied that I had not, as in truth, I never gave him a thought, 'but why do you ask this question of me?'

"Well says he, 'I have just arrived from Pizen Switch and I propose to have a great old time, just as we used to have together in Arizona and I don't want anyone to know me. I expect you to keep your mouth shut and don't admit that you know who I am. No one has seen me with you and I am safe so far.

"I've got about $5,000 in greenbacks which I made at the mines and a little jewelry, probably $10,000 worth, which I yanked out of a dude in a card game at Iron Point. All this I put in your hands to return to me when I get over my jag. Let me do as I please and in no instance do I want you to interfere with me. If I don't come back or get in a row and get killed you can use the money and all the jewelry to suit yourself.

"I agreed to all this of course and he went out the by the back way. At first I thought of keeping a fatherly eye on him, but he gave me the slip. I paid no attention to the matter and took a stroll up towards the Arlington House, sat down and opened a religious conversation with A. D. Treadway. I had been there probably an hour and the saloon was about to close when I heard a wild wailing song that appeared to come up Carson street. The strains were broken and disconnected. The voice seemed to be familiar to me, but was quite thick.

"In a moment the figure came in view and I recognized my friend. As he neared Jake's cigar store he spotted the Indian with his war paint on, and stopped short in his song, his face lighted up and his fingers seemed to jerk with a nervous twitch; his eyes began to stick out and both hands shot towards his hip pockets. I saw what he had in mind and kept in the shade of the trees to await the result. Treadway was asleep and I feared no interference from him.

"As he yanked out two six-shooters he braced himself against an awning upright and began to plug away.

"After six shots were fired the Indian stood there as solidly as before and the shooter approached him with both pistols at full cock. Nearer and nearer he came, but the figure moved not. He passed the pistol in his right hand to his left, and reaching out touched Mr. Indian.

"Well," Gill continued after a long breath, "you ought to have seen that fellow's face, he gave one yell, dropped his pistols and struck out towards the Carson River, whooping and howling like a crazy man. A crowd had gathered by this time and a loud laugh was the only echo to answer his howling.

"As the sound died away and he had disappeared from sight, I turned on my heel, and asked the boys to take something while I explained. At this juncture Treadway woke up and we went in John Sweeney's while I explained the situation, leaving out the first part of course.

"I never saw anything more of the young fellow, but the dredging machine on the Carson River while hunting for metal, found his body in a decomposed state. He had 85cents in his pocket which was probably all the bullion the dredger ever brought to the surface.

When I learned this, I took the valueables he had left with me and turned them all over to a hospital society and an elegant structure now rears its head in D— to memorialize the cowboy."

At this juncture Gill called the crowd out of the Arlington to show them the scars on the Indian, and when they were satisfied of the truth of his story, they put another shingle on the roof of the hospital.

CURE FOR INFLUENZA.—O. Sander of Chicago writes: "It surprises me that in no public report reference is made to the pure volatile eucalyptus as a cure of the influenza, which has become epidemic in Europe and recently in a good many parts of the United States. This drug was employed by Prof. Dr. Mostler, director of the medical clinic of the Greifswald, Prussia, with the best results in influenza, hay fever, diphtheritis, catarrhal affections of the nasal mucus membrane and the deep-lying mucus membrane of the trachea and bronchi. Prof. Dr. Schulz, lecturer on pharmacology at the University of Bonn, Prussia, speaks likewise in the highest terms of the virtues of that drugs in the complaints named. During my stay in Australia, where the use of pure volatile eucalyptus extract (the volatile oil of the leaves) has become quite familiar, I took particular notice of its manufacture. The article here universally in favor of manufactured at Sandhurst, Victoria, and exported to all parts of the globe. It must not be confounded with the common terbinthinous eucalyptus oil or wood oil.

ANOTHER MAN HUNG.—His stocking by the chimney with care and was tickled almost to death to find that his good wife had anticipated his near at hand wants and filled the stocking with Standard Seeds grown and put up by M. D. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Michigan, who, on application, will mail you free a copy of their Seed Annual for 1890. This is the most useful of all seed catalogues, not only for experienced gardeners, but for the novice as well. Send your name and address for a copy, to D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit Michigan.

Language is hardly strong enough to express my admiration of the merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is the best remedy for croup and whooping cough I have ever used. During the past eighteen years I have tried nearly all the prominent cough medicines on the market but say, and with pleasure too, that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best of all. THOMAS RHODES, Bakersfield, California, For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

Go to Will Wright for a good Photo. He is still at Peterson's gallery over Thaxter's store turning out cabinets at $5 per dozen in cloudy or fair weather.

Mr. W. H. Baldrige, druggist Escondido, California, says: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best selling medicine I handle. In fact I sell more of it than all other cough medicines combined. Everyone who has used it speaks in glowing terms of its efficiency." For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

Cough! and Cough! and Cough!! What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

Lost.—A white knit shawl. The finder please leave the same at Cagwin & Notewares store. j. 21 ft.
